29. ZTE has directly infringed, and continues to directly infringe one or more claims of the '622 Patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in Texas, including at least claims 3, 4, 6-8, 10-19, 21, 23-35, and 38 literally and/or under the doctrine of equivalents, by or through making, using, importing, offering for sale and/or selling numerous versions of the ZTE Android

IVM smartphones (together “ZTE Android IVM smartphones”) during the pendency of the ’622 Patent which devices and associated servers perform instant voice messaging over Wi-Fi and the Internet between persons using cellphones and/or other devices capable of instant voice messaging; wherein digitized audio files are transmitted between a plurality of recipients on a packet switched network and a list of one or more currently potential recipients is displayed on the device. Upon information and belief, the additional Android devices identified in Exhibit E also provide such functionality and, thereby, infringe as set forth in this Count.

30. In addition, should the ZTE Android IVM smartphones be found to not literally infringe the asserted claims of the ’622 Patent, the ZTE Android IVM smartphones would nevertheless infringe the asserted claims of the ’622 Patent. More specifically, the accused smartphones perform substantially the same function (instant voice messaging), in substantially the same way (via a digitized audio files in a client/server environment), to yield substantially the same result (delivering voice messages to available intended recipients). ZTE would thus be liable for direct infringement under the doctrine of equivalents.

31. ZTE has indirectly infringed and continues to indirectly infringe at least claims 3, 4, 6-8, 10-19, 21, 23-35, and 38 of the ’622 Patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States by, among other things, actively inducing the using, offering for sale, selling, or importing the ZTE Android IVM smartphones. ZTE’s customers who purchase the ZTE Android IVM smartphones and operate such devices in accordance with ZTE’s instructions directly infringe one or more of the foregoing claims of the ’622 Patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271. ZTE directly and/or indirectly instructs its customers through training videos, demonstrations, brochures, installation and/or user guides, such as those located at the following:

ZTE is thereby liable for infringement of the '622 Patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b).

32. ZTE has indirectly infringed and continues to indirectly infringe at least claims 3, 4, 6-8, 10-19, 21, 23-35, and 38 of the '622 Patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States by, among other things, contributing to the direct infringement by others including, without limitation customers using the ZTE Android IVM smartphones, by making, offering to sell, selling and/or importing into the United States, a component of a patented machine, manufacture or combination, or an apparatus for use in practicing a patented process, constituting a material part of the invention, knowing the same to be especially made or especially adapted for use in infringing the '622 Patent and not a staple article or commodity of commerce suitable for substantial non-infringing use.

33. For example, the ZTE Android IVM smartphones are components of a patented machine, manufacture, or combination, or an apparatus for use in practicing a patent process. Furthermore, the ZTE Android IVM smartphones are material parts of the claimed inventions and upon information and belief are not a staple article or commodity of commerce suitable for substantial non-infringing use. ZTE is, therefore, liable for infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(c).

34. ZTE will have been on notice of the '622 Patent since, at the latest, the service of this complaint upon ZTE. By the time of trial, ZTE will have known and intended (since receiving such notice) that its continued actions would actively induce, and contribute to, the infringement of one or more of claims 3, 4, 6-8, 10-19, 21, 23-35, and 38 of the '622 Patent.

35. ZTE may have infringed the '622 Patent through other devices utilizing the same or reasonably similar functionality, including other versions of the ZTE Android IVM smartphones. Uniloc reserves the right to discover and pursue all such additional infringing software/devices.

36. Uniloc has been damaged, reparably and irreparably, by ZTE's infringement of the '622 Patent and such damage will continue unless and until ZTE is enjoined.

COUNT II
(INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 8,995,433)

37. Uniloc incorporates paragraphs 1-36 above by reference.

38. Uniloc Luxembourg is the owner, by assignment, of U.S. Patent No. 8,995,433 ("the '433 Patent"), entitled SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR INSTANT VOIP MESSAGING that issued on March 31, 2015. A true and correct copy of the '433 Patent is attached as Exhibit B hereto.

39. Uniloc USA is the exclusive licensee of the '433 Patent with ownership of all substantial rights therein, including the right to grant sublicenses, to exclude others, and to enforce, sue and recover past damages for the infringement thereof.

40. ZTE has directly infringed, and continues to directly infringe one or more claims of the '433 Patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in Texas, including at least claims 1-5, 8-9, 11-12, 14-17, 25 and 26 literally and/or under the doctrine of equivalents, by or through making, using, importing, offering for sale and/or selling the ZTE Android IVM smartphones during the pendency of the '433 Patent which devices and associated servers perform instant voice messaging over Wi-Fi and the Internet between persons using cellphones and/or other devices capable of instant voice messaging; wherein a list of one or more potential recipients is displayed on the device, the instant messages are temporarily stored using a unique identifier, and a file manager stores, retrieves and/or deletes the messages in response to the users request. Upon information and belief, the additional Android devices identified in Exhibit E also provide such functionality and, thereby, infringe as set forth in this Count.

41. In addition, should the ZTE Android IVM smartphones be found to not literally infringe the asserted claims of the '433 Patent, the ZTE Android IVM smartphones would nevertheless infringe the asserted claims of the '433 Patent. More specifically, the accused ZTE Android IVM smartphones perform substantially the same function (instant voice messaging), in substantially the same way (identifying potentially available recipients, storing messages using unique identifiers and a file manager for storing, retrieving and/or deleting the messages), to yield substantially the same result (delivering voice messages to available intended recipients and wherein the messages may be stored, retrieved and/or deleted). ZTE would thus be liable for direct infringement under the doctrine of equivalents.

42. ZTE has indirectly infringed and continues to indirectly infringe at least claims 1-5, 8-9, 11-12, 14-17, 25 and 26 of the '433 Patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States by, among other things, actively inducing the using, offering for sale, selling, or importing the ZTE Android IVM smartphones. ZTE's customers who purchase the ZTE Android IVM smartphones and operate the devices in accordance with ZTE's instructions directly infringe one or more of the foregoing claims of the '433 Patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271. ZTE directly and/or indirectly instructs its customers through training videos, demonstrations, brochures, installation and/or user guides, such as those located at the following:

ZTE is thereby liable for infringement of the '433 Patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b).

43. ZTE has indirectly infringed and continues to indirectly infringe at least claims 1-5, 8-9, 11-12, 14-17, 25 and 26 of the '433 Patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States by, among other things, contributing to the direct infringement by others including, without limitation customers using the ZTE Android IVM smartphones, by making, offering to sell, selling and/or importing into the United States, a component of a patented machine, manufacture or combination, or an apparatus for use in practicing a patented process, constituting a material part of the invention, knowing the same to be especially made or especially adapted for use in infringing the '433 Patent and not a staple article or commodity of commerce suitable for substantial non-infringing use.

44. For example, the ZTE Android IVM smartphones are components of a patented machine, manufacture, or combination, or an apparatus for use in practicing a patent process. Furthermore, the ZTE Android IVM smartphones are material parts of the claimed inventions and upon information and belief are not a staple article or commodity of commerce suitable for substantial non-infringing use. ZTE is, therefore, liable for infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(c).

45. ZTE will have been on notice of the '433 Patent since, at the latest, the service of this complaint upon ZTE. By the time of trial, ZTE will have known and intended (since receiving such notice) that its continued actions would actively induce, and contribute to, the infringement of one or more of claims 1-5, 8-9, 11-12, 14-17, 25 and 26 of the '433 Patent.

46. ZTE may have infringed the '433 Patent through other devices utilizing the same or reasonably similar functionality, including other versions of the ZTE Android IVM smartphones. Uniloc reserves the right to discover and pursue all such additional infringing software/devices.

47. Uniloc has been damaged, reparably and irreparably, by ZTE's infringement of the '433 Patent and such damage will continue unless and until ZTE is enjoined.

52. In addition, should the ZTE Android IVM smartphones be found to not literally infringe the asserted claims of the '890 Patent, the ZTE Android IVM smartphones would nevertheless infringe the asserted claims of the '890 Patent. More specifically, the accused ZTE Android IVM smartphones perform substantially the same function (instant voice messaging), in substantially the same way (via a client/server environment), to yield substantially the same result (delivering voice messages to available intended recipients).
